

POST INVESTIGATIVE SERVICES

Our job doesn't have to end when our investigation does. Having a Forensic Report in hand is just one of many steps on the path to recovering stolen crypto.

Normally, it is up to the victim to contact the various law enforcement jurisdictions and file the appropriate reports with each of them. In addition, follow-up engagements with agents/officers are suggested to keep interest in your case going strong.

With CoinStructive's "white-glove" Post Investigative Services, we can provide up to 12 months of direct involvement with your case to make sure it has the best possible chance of getting closed.

JURISDICTIONAL REPORTING

With our Post Investigative Service, CoinStructive will take our Forensic Report and file it with all appropriate jurisdictions and entities on your behalf.

LAW ENFORCEMENT CONNECTIONS

CoinStructive's extensive and expanding network of law enforcement contacts ensures that your case will not sit and collect dust. We routinely converse with and build new partnerships with members of both local, state, federal and international agencies.

CONTINUOUS UPDATES

We understand your time is valuable, and we intend to preserve it by handling all the heavy lifting. We do all the follow up to make sure your case is getting worked on. You'll be notified every step of the way with progress reports and advancements to the progress of your case.

THE MISSION OF

COINSTRUCTIVE

"Our mission is to provide clients with a trusted partner for their Blockchain Forensics & Investigations needs. The data in our reports can be reliably confirmed by a 3rd party. It also provides tax professionals and auditors a clear understanding of how the loss occurred, which goes a long way in proving the outcomes you want."
